

A GROWING TRIBUTE

While alumnus Michael Radner '86 conceptualized the original design, enhancements are made as additional resources become available. Through the generous donations of alumni, students, faculty and friends, the University has added a tulip garden, flowers, plantings, bluestone, lighting, arbors, an irrigation system, benches and the memorial boulder.

LOOKING AHEAD

Donations are needed to continue to maintain and expand the courtyard. Future plans call for extending the garden to the upper courtyard as well as adding more bluestone, green space, lighting, benches and trees.

For more information on future plans for the courtyard, please visit our website at courtyard.binghamton.edu.

“We are creating a garden that will never really be finished — that will always be a work in progress.”

*Michael Radner '86
Memorial Courtyard architect*

SUPPORTING THE MEMORIAL COURTYARD

The Memorial Courtyard provides an opportunity for family and friends to memorialize alumni, students, faculty, staff and friends of the University. Gifts of any size are appreciated, as are materials, landscape plantings and other properties consistent with the courtyard's elegant design.

Gifts of $500 or more are acknowledged on the donor recognition display at the courtyard entrance.

Each gift of $1,000 or more may honor a deceased member of the University community, whose name will be inscribed on a bronze plaque and affixed to the memorial boulder in the courtyard.

The Memorial Courtyard

A PLACE OF BEAUTY AND PEACE. The Memorial Courtyard was designed to provide visitors with a peaceful place to remember, honor and celebrate the alumni, students, faculty, staff and friends of Binghamton University. As the seasons change, so too does the courtyard, reminding visitors of the continuous cycle of life.

A PLACE OF REMEMBRANCE. The Memorial Courtyard was dedicated on October 12, 2002, in memory of the 15 Binghamton University alumni who tragically lost their lives on September 11, 2001. The courtyard's central feature is a granite memorial monument honoring those lost.

“A great institution needs a great garden.”

*John Copoulos '73
Memorial Courtyard supporter*

BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY

Memorial Courtyard

A PLACE OF BEAUTY AND PEACE

Binghamton University
MEMORIAL
Courtyard

A Place of Remembrance

BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY
FOUNDATION

Binghamton University Foundation
PO Box 6005
Binghamton, New York 13902
607-777-6208
giveto.binghamton.edu